Creating new paths in dental implantology.

Anthogyr is your trusted partner for performance. An agile brand that goes where others don't. Experts in the medical field for more than 70 years, we dare to create ingenious solutions to your dental challenges. Reach your objectives and restore your patients' life to freedom.

Let's create new paths together.

 Anthogyr

Who we are

Anthogyr is a French designer and manufacturer of innovative implant and prosthetic solutions. Based in the Alps, in the Mont-Blanc valley, near Chamonix, we have been developing our industrial expertise for over 70 years, through the production of high precision medical and dental devices. Specialising in dental implantology for some thirty years, we are recognised for our high-performance solutions, our strong capacity for innovation and our creativity, with over 67 active patents.

"Origin story"

Our story

Over 70 years have passed since Anthogyr first began developing precision mechanics for the watchmaking industry. Almost a century later, Anthogyr has become a prominent leader in dental implantology. The company's strategic aim has become increasingly focused over the years, giving rise to the Axiom® concept in 2009. In the last 15 years, Anthogyr has become more and more innovative. In 2012, Anthogyr launched a prosthetically oriented strategy with the acquisition of the Simedra® personalised prosthesis solution. This solution provides a complete response to tooth restoration.
